MEDALLION SIGNATURE GUARANTEE

A consular officer cannot perform a Medallion Signature Guarantee (which is a special type of signature acknowledgement sometimes required for the exchange of securities.) The Medallion Program is not a notarization. For further information on the Securities and Exchange Commission's (SEC) Medallion Program, please visit:
<http://www.sec.gov/answers/sigguar.htm>.

General questions about Medallion Signature Guarantees or how the Medallion program works may be directed to the SEC's Office of Investor Education and Assistance by email at help@sec.gov, by phone at 1-800-SEC-0330, by fax at 202-772-9295, or by mail at 100 F Street, NE, Washington, D.C., 20549-0213.

The Embassy is aware of two companies in the United Kingdom that perform Medallion Signature Guarantees. Please contact them directly for information on fees and procedures. This listing does not constitute an endorsement or recommendation from the U.S. Embassy.
